Weighty role for Liz in big holiday gala

TENTERDEN Youth Club member 15-year-old Liz Tyson, of Isemonger, has a very special role in the town's gala on the recreation ground on Bank Holiday Monday.

Dressed in a bikini, she will be stared at by hundreds of gala visitors, who will be invited to guess her weight, with a prize for the correct guess.

The gala, a joint venture which aims to raise £500, is in aid of the Highbury Hall building fund, which needs about £2,300. The hall is used by the town's youth club and an association for the care of the elderly.

UNUSUAL FEATURE

The Mayor, Ald. Reuben Collison, will perform the opening and there will be a tug-of-war contest, with beer and wine as prizes to quench the victors' thirst.

There will also be prizes for the children's fancy dress parade and an unusual feature will be a parcel post stall. Parcels, including one from Sierra Leone, have been sent to the gala, and, for 1s., patrons can find out what is inside the parcel of their choice.

CENTREPIECE

Centrepiece of the gala will be a model of an Apollo spaceship made by youth club members.

To publicise the gala, 17-year-old Martin Forder will do a little busking in the town centre tomorrow (Saturday)—with police permission.
